

12 Stunning Salads To Eat In Dallas Right Now

June 9, 2017

Rachel Pinn

There are few things worse in this world than munching on a disappointing salad when you're trying to eat right. A lack of creativity, a bad dressing situation or – heaven-forbid – wilted lettuce can make even the most well-intentioned eater reach for the bread basket faster than you can say “three-day old spring mix.”

We're here to help. Stop in at one of these 12 spots for bright salads that don't skimp on flavor while offering a healthy alternative to your usual diet of brisket, burgers, and beer.

4 Blatt Beer & Table

The Caesar salad at Blatt arrives topped with a totally addictive dressing, Grana Padano cheese, and curry-seasoned grilled chicken. The addition of sliced fennel and house-made croutons takes it to the next level.

7859 Walnut Hill Ln
Dallas, TX

(469) 372-2080

<https://dallas.eater.com/maps/dallas-best-salad-restaurants>

